

LEAGUE ENDORSES OSCAR MITCHELL

Anti-Saloon People Will Support His Candidacy

MRS. ARMOR'S ABLE TALK

Georgia Woman Enthusiasm the Crowd and Tells the Workers How to Win Against the Liquor Interests—Frank Waring Sings in a Delightful Manner—$110 for the League.

The session of the Clearfield County Anti-Saloon League Tuesday, held in the Trinity M. E. church, was full of interest. Dr. Patch, of Altoona district president, presided at the meeting.

The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows: President—Rev. B. A. Salter; Secretary—Rev. E. L. Kennedy; Treasurer—S. C. Watts, Clearfield.

Indorsed Oscar Mitchell. The discussion as to whom the league should support for judge at the approaching election in Clearfield county lasted almost all day. A vote being taken it was found that 13 delegates were in favor of Oscar Mitchell and 3 against indorsing him. The league will take an active part in the campaign, working on behalf of his election.

It is proposed by the league to bring to the county some of the most prominent men in the temperance cause in the U. S. to speak and work for Mr. Mitchell. Dr. Patch stated that Oscar Mitchell is entirely acceptable to the temperance people.

Mrs. Armor's Address. The address of Mrs. Mary Harris Armor, of Georgia, in Trinity church last evening was listened attentively to by a large audience. Mrs. Armor is a good talker and her command of the English language is remarkable. Mrs. Armor told her auditors that it was deeds and not words that counted in a campaign against liquor traffic. She paid her respects to those men who, believing in the cause of temperance, were too cowardly to help fight on the side of the right.

Mrs. Armor held the crowd spell-bound with her eloquence for an hour and a half. One man, a physician, declared he would go home and get 50 votes for Mitchell on the strength of that address.

The meeting was opened by scriptural reading by Dr. E. C. Rees, and Dr. Bender made the opening prayer.

The offering for the Anti-Saloon League cause amounted to $110.

Frank Waring, of the First Methodist church at Tyrone, has a great voice and elicited great applause when he sang temperance songs.

TABERNACLE NEAR COMPLETION

Expected First Meeting Will be Held On Friday.

The tabernacle at Glen Richey is almost completed and the first meeting will be held in the building on Friday. The tabernacle can be seen standing out prominently on the main road near Glen Richey. Friday, October 3, was observed as building day, at which time teams were hauling the rest of the lumber. With the exception of some roofing, tar paper and the seats, the building is finished.

The last of the union prayer meetings will be held this evening. These meetings can have resulted in two conversions, and if nothing else had been accomplished these meetings would be considered amply worth while. Evangelists Hamilton and Leonard are expected on Friday of this week. It is hoped they will arrive on time to hold the first tabernacle meeting on that evening. If they should not a union prayer meeting will be held instead. There is every prospect of a good revival.

Cake and Food Sale. The Ladies Aid society of the First Presbyterian church will hold a cake and food sale in the rooms of the Penn Public Service company on Saturday, October 11. Everybody welcome.

PATTON COAL MINERS JOINING THE UNION

Threatened Closing of the Mines May be Averted

At a meeting of the union miners employed by the Pennsylvania Coal & Coke Company, held at Patton Monday evening, 168 employees of the company, who had not hitherto been identified with the United Mine Workers of America were admitted into membership in the organization. About 30 men will remain outside of the fold and they were given until next Thursday evening to get under cover.

The Pennsylvania Coal and Coke company employs about 800 miners in the Patton field, about 770 of whom are now in good standing in the union. The organized mines are determined that all the employees of this company shall join the organization. If the delinquents do not respond by next Thursday evening it is the intention of the organized men to ask the company to discharge them and if this is not done steps of a more serious nature may be taken, which may develop into a good sized strike.

"If 25 or 30 men can run the company's mines here," said one official of the local union "we may as well give them a chance to see how it works."

It is believed that the remainder of the men not members of the union will join before Thursday evening. In the event of a strike it is probable it will extend to all other fields of the Pennsylvania Coal and Coke corporation in this county.

The Standard company's large warehouse was consumed. All possible effort was directed to saving the 180,000 gallon kerosene tank, but it was destroyed also. In all eleven tanks have been burned out or still are burning, five of them being huge affairs.

FIRE FOLLOWS STORM IN ALASKAN CITY

Fire Fighting Apparatus Destroyed by Gale.

Nome, Alaska, Oct. 8.—Fire broke out in the storm stricken city of Nome, and the flames attacked the Pacific cold storage plant, where is stored the chief supply of meat for the winter. The fire apparatus was destroyed in the gale.

Front street during the storm became a mass of wreckage into which seas broke, while hundreds of homeless persons struggled to save necessities of life. Reeling seas carried away the contents of wrecked houses and stores, as well as parts of wrecked structures.

None of the buildings on the sand-spit remained standing, and the leveled structures there were in flames. This part of the community was cut off by the turbulent waters.

The storm that on Sunday night began beating in from Bering sea was the worst ever known here. Men and women worked all night in the icy water to save their household effects. The electric light plant was wrecked and telephone service cut off. The loss before the outbreak of fire was estimated at $1,500,000.

There will be much suffering, and outside help will be required. Winter is at hand and it will be impossible to get in needed supplies.

OSCAR MITCHELL'S STRENGTH

Oscar Mitchell's sources of strength in this judicial campaign are many.
In the first place, Mr. Mitchell has always led a blameless life. His public and private acts have been clean.
He has never allied himself with the forces that work to the detriment of the public welfare, moral or material. He can face any man in the county with the knowledge that he never harmed any one in thought or deed.
The people who wish to see on the bench of Clearfield county a judge who is conscientious and believes that the will of the majority of the people should rule the administration of the office of judge can support Mr.
Mitchell with enthusiasm and with vi-
or voters of all parties who know that Mr. Mitchell is fair-minded, free from the charge of being unkind, free to all men, imbued with a desire to see the evils which exist eradicated
from the county, can vote for Mr.
Mitchell, without feeling that they are doing injustice to the principles of good government.

No man has been able to find a single weak spot in Mr. Mitchell's escutcheon. He stands today as the embodiment of truth and honesty and the personification of sincerity and earnestness, the exponent of all that is worth while in the progress of the world. A man whose character is with out bluish, whose word is as good as his bond, a man who is bound to no clique or cabal, a man who has earned the esteem of fellowmen—such a man would bring to the bench in this county ability to administer the laws impartially and satisfactorily.

Oscar Mitchell is strong with the people who favor all that is best in county government. He has the courage of his convictions, and his utterance upon the vital issue in the judicial campaign now in progress have left nothing for his opponents to quibble over. He has taken his stand for temperance and against the abuse of the liquor laws, and if elected he will faithfully carry into execution every pledge and every promise he has made to the people. To take the judiciary of Clearfield county out of the rotten whirl of whisky controlled politics the good people of the county should support Oscar Mitchell for judge.

SMALLPOX EPIDEMIC.

Several towns in Clinton and Center counties are greatly excited over the presence therein of smallpox. In one or two of the towns the disease has become epidemic and the seriousness of the situation is attracting the attention of people in other towns. The disease reached these towns in the usual manner—through the carelessness of one or two persons who were exposed to the disease.

Mr. Hall appears to be the chief sufferer from the outbreak of small pox. In that town those who now have the disease mingled freely with their fellow employees in the brick mills, and the authorities are alarmed lest many others will be inoculated. The physicians are doing what they can to prevent the spread of the disease, but under the circumstances this is regarded as an impossible task.

It is said that the epidemic of small pox in Clinton county had its origin in the visit of a woman of Wilhelm, where her father had the disease.
If this be true it emphasizes the fact that there should be a law severely punishing persons who thoughtlessly
or carelessly visit other families after being exposed to contagious disease. In the meantime it is hoped that the Clinton and Center county authorities will be able to check the disease before it increases the number of its victims.

They're coming in—the reports of hunters who have been shot in mistake for bear, squirrels and wood chucks. The list of the victims of the fool behind the gun promises to be a big one this year.

A man who fourteen years ago
beat a Southern railroad out of a far by stealing a ride on a coal train and has since experienced religion asks the company to pardon him. That man appears to have been as slow getting religion as most Southern railroad trains are in getting from one station to another.

Philadelphians complain of the piggeries within the city limits. At the price of pork these days pigs should be kept in palaces thus avoiding complaints of their pens.

The man who wishes to vote right can use a sticker just as easily as he can make an X on a ballot. That bugaboo is quickly banished among intelligent people.

Gather the fallen leaves and put them on your lot. Next spring you will find that they have been converted into an excellent fertilizer.

After the enthusiastic fans have returned from witnessing the world's

to tackle them for subscriptions in support of a first-class baseball team

SAFE-GUARDING BIG ROAD LOAN

Not More Than $5,000,000 to
Be Spent in Any One Year.

TO PLEDGE THE CANDIDATES

Pennsylvania Good Roads Association
Is Already Preparing to Urge Upon Legislature Enactment of Proper
Enabling Laws For Carrying Out
Proposed Highway Program.

Looking forward to the approval of the $5,000,000 state road loan at the November elections, the Pennsylvania
Good Roads Association already outlining a campaign for the passage of a law by the legislature of 1915 limiting
the expenditure from this fund to $5, 000,000 in any one year.

The association realizes that proper enabling legislation is almost as important as the loan itself, and it is already preparing to make the limiting
of expenditure the big issue of the elections next fall wherever members of the house and senate or state officers having to do with the highway department are to be elected. Every candidate for the legislature will be asked whether or not he favors such a law,
so that the voters will know in advance exactly where he stands.

The association holds that $5,000,000 a year, in addition to such sums as are set aside from current revenues for the use of the highway department, will constitute as much money as will be necessary to carry out a systematic,
economic and practical campaign for first class road construction.

The association sets forth its position on the road loan and the proposed legislation in the following address to the people of the state.

To the People of Pennsylvania—
The Pennsylvania Good Roads Association commends to the favorable consideration of the voters the proposed amendment to the constitution to permit the state to issue bonds not exceeding $50,000,000 for the construction of highways. This amendment has been adopted by two legislatures and now requires only the approval of a majority at the polls in the November election of 1915.

Issuance of bonds is an approved
method of financing large enterprises, both public and private. The constitution of Pennsylvania grants to all municipalities the right to bond themselves for such purposes. Cities and towns generally avail themselves of this efficient and economic method of providing funds for public works. The proposed amendment would extend a like privilege to the state itself in a limited degree and for a specific purpose.

The need is imperative. Enlightened public sentiment demands good roads.
Pennsylvania is far behind many of her sister states in meeting this demand. Repeated experience has shown that legislatures cannot be depended
on to resist the demands for apportations for public and private har-
ties to such an extent as to permit adequate support for road building out of the general revenues. A bond issue offers the only alternative. The state is out of debt. It can borrow an abundant of money at low interest. Repayment of the loan through the accumulation of a sinking fund and its interest earnings during a long period
of years will impose no serious burden on the revenues. Farms and other real estate will not be called upon to pay a dollar of this because there is
and can be no state tax on real estate in Pennsylvania.

The Pennsylvania Good Roads Association is in favor not only of the bond issue, but of a conservative and well ordered method of issuing these bonds and expending the proceeds thereof. Should the bond issue be approved by the voters in November, no money would be available until the legislature had passed and the governor approved an enabling act to carry the constitutional amendment into effect. The legislature and the governor upon whom this duty would devolve are to be nominated at the popular primaries next spring and elected the following November. The people will be in a position to demand of all candidates assurance of how they will deal with the expenditure of the road funds.

This association will urge upon all candidates and upon the incoming state administration and legislature taking office in January, 1915, the passage of an enabling act that will provide for the issuing of the bonds in amounts not to exceed only so much money as may be necessary in addition to appropriations from the current revenues to carry out a systematic, economical and practical campaign of first class highway construction. The best efforts of an association of representative citizens of all shades
of political belief and all walks of life are pledged to this end.

Good Roads Association are as follows:

New Ideas For the House.
If simplicity were chosen as the
watchword in furnishing the average home its occupants would be better pleased with its aspect than they often
are with many a room known so well
to everybody, overburdened with
"things" and a hodgepodge of colorings. Fancy a lovely pink evening gown with a background of a red wall
and a floor covering that sends not less than half a dozen color impressions at once to the eye.

Some big American department stores have suits of rooms set apart
with furnishings, walls, coverings, etc.,
that suggest artistic and practical ways of remodeling rooms in one's own home. The cost of such an improvement can be made commensurate with one's pocketbook, while the idea is what one is looking for.

Decorators have exploited brown as a fundamental color note until brown rooms are very general but nevertheless inviting. A living room in a simple country home carries out a scheme of decoration in browns well worth reproducing. The wall paper is a plain one in a warm tan that verges on a coffee color. The ceiling is not white, but perceptibly cream in tint, and the color is brought down eighteen inches
on the side walls, where a small cream enameled picture molding separates it from the paper.

Curtains for the windows are made
of wide scrim hemstitched and hanging only three or four inches below
the sills from a small rod over which they are shirred at the top. The floor is covered with plain brown woolen "filler," costing 75 cents per yard.
Rugs having some old blue and dark red in them give life to the room, as do the flowered chintz cushions and pillows. The woodwork of the room is painted light cream color.

Excuse of the Future.

plane, dear I got caught in an air hole

SULZER SOUGHT TO REACH MURPHY

Attempted In This Way to Stop Impeachment Proceedings.

RYAN'S STORY ON RECORD

At Resumption of Hearing Court Votes to Keep Testimony Before Members. Other Sensational Disclosures Quickly Follow—Attempted to Use Ryan as Means of Reaching Tammany Boss.

Albany, Oct. 8.—That William Sulzer sought the intercession of Charles F. Murphy as well as William Barnes Jr., was the startling testimony at his impeachment trial.

Allan A. Ryan, recalled to the stand testified that Sulzer had asked him to see Delancey Nicol after Ryan had been informed that it was useless to look to Republican senators for any support for Sulzer at the trial. Ryan said that he had advised Sulzer to resign and then the governor asked him to do certain things.

"What did he ask you to do?" asked John J. Stanchfield.
"He asked me to see Delancey Nicol to see if he could not carry out the same idea he had expressed regarding getting Barnes' influence. He said that Mr. Nicol could see certain parties or possibly persuade them to do what he had wished to accomplish by having me see Senator Root or have him see Mr. Barnes."

"Did he name any particular person he wanted Mr. Nicol to see?"
"Yes."

"Who was it?"
"Mr. Murphy (Charles F. Murphy)."

Testimony in the Record.
Replacing in the record of testimony given by Allan A. Ryan who said Governor Sulzer had asked him to intercede with Senator Root and through him with William Barnes Jr. in his behalf, was the first consideration at the Sulzer trial before the court of impeachment.

When court opened the defense was ready to submit some documentary proof and then call Louis A. Sarecky as its first witness. It was evident, however, that before the proceedings began a movement was on foot to reinsert the Ryan statement in the record and thus keep formally before the court the story that Sulzer tried to have Barnes urge Republican senators to vote in his favor at his trial.

When the court opened Mr. Stanchfield said he understood that there was a desire to call Allan Ryan to the witness stand again and he added that Mr. Ryan was ready.

Counsel for Sulzer were asked by Senator Brown if they desired to call Mr. Ryan for cross examination and Louis Marshall replied that they had no wish to do so at this time.

They had not made up their minds whether they would call him or not.

Executive Session Held.
Then Mr. Brown said: "I move that the court go into secret session to consider the question of the testimony given by the witness Ryan."

The motion was carried and the court then went into secret session. It was said that the Sulzer attorneys had asked the prosecution to have Mr. Ryan here again.

When the court reconvened after the secret session Judge Cullen said:

"Gentlemen, after further discussion the court has decided that the evidence given by the witness Ryan about being asked of the respondent to see Senator Root shall remain in the record."

Ryan is Recalled.
Mr. Ryan was then recalled to the stand.

"Was there anything more in the conversation you had with Governor Sulzer," asked Mr. Stanchfield, "at the time he asked you to see Senator Root than you have already testified to?"

"Yes," said the witness.

The questioning was interrupted while the galleries filled. In the interim it was announced that the vote to put Ryan's testimony back in the record was 40 to 14. The vote Monday to keep it out was 32 to 18.

"What was the other conversation?" asked Mr. Stanchfield.

"I suggested to Mr. Sulzer that now certain charges had been made against him I did not see how he could afford to put himself in the position of not answering the charges."

"He said that the reason he didn't want to was that he did not care to drag his wife into the situation and put her on the stand. I told him I would not go to Washington (to see Senator Root), but that I would try to ascertain the Republican sentiment on the question as to whether or not the courts had a right to try to impeach him."

BARON ENDS LIFE.

Financial Troubles Cause Suicide of Jacob Smisnaert.

Denver Oct. 8.—Baron Jacob Smisnaert, former resident of Amsterdam, Holland, committed suicide in a local hotel. The body was not discovered until later, when the room he occupied was forced open and he was found dead in bed.

It is said financial difficulties were responsible for his act. Baron Smisnaert, in 1880, married Miss Della Daugherty of New York.

Points for Mothers

The Child Beautiful.

No matter what a fond mother declares she wishes the fairy godmother to bestow on her child at its birth, in her heart of hearts she wishes her child to be beautiful. No amount of wishing seems to have any power in the matter, and what the fates decree has to be submitted to. No matter whether the beauty be much or little, it is impossible to add to it, but with care it can be preserved, for, sad to relate, many people spoil their good looks in early childhood through being allowed to form undesirable habits of those funny little ways which are peculiar to the early stages of life.

Who is there who has not reveled in the delight of the pastime which grownups call "gum-sucking"? It consists in making the face fascinatingly ugly by stretching the mouth to its fullest extent, pushing the nose up and pulling the ears forward. It is disastrous to the very young who by this means obtain very premature wrinkles and find their ears permanently out of standing. It should be severely discouraged in young children and on no account should such antics be rewarded by a smile. No matter how comical the child may look.

Similarly the frowns of bad temper should be avoided, and this can only be done by removing the cause. Temper whether of the passionate or the sulky variety, is largely a matter of habit, and a very undesirable one too, but a child must be taken in hand at a very early age if it is to be taught to control its temper. A child's feelings are all on the surface and it is easily possible to divert the mind to some other subject than that which caused the outbreak of temper. Sulksiness generally arises from resentment on the part of an older child. It is extremely infectious and the parent who sulks with a child need not be astonished if the child shows symptoms of the same complaint.

Another trick of childhood which is also associated with bad temper is the dangerous habit of biting the nails. The ill result which is apparent to all is short and ugly finger nails, which can never be made beautiful again even by the most skillful manicurists. The real danger of the habit, however, lies in the sharpness of the small particles swallowed, which are quite capable of giving rise to an attack of appendicitis.

Connected with the fingers also is the habit of thumb sucking which commences when the gums are swollen and painful at the time of cutting the teeth. At the earliest signs of thumb sucking the thumb should be taken out and a rubber ring given as a substitute, or, better still, the child should be given a little drop of cold water to drink. It seems hard to check a habit which may soothe and comfort a young child but there is the future to be considered, and a continuance of the habit leaves its mark in an ugly pointed thumb and deformed mouth, in which the upper lip and the top teeth are unduly projecting, while the lower parts of the mouth are receding.

The evils arising from sucking a "dummy" resemble those of thumb sucking as far as deformity of the mouth is concerned, and with both there is the evil of overexcited salivary glands through the constant sucking. It would be a good thing if the sale of this injurious article were illegal, as in France.

Nursery Quilts.
Distinctive quilts for the little tot's room are a joy to the children and a delightful task for mothers. They are very expensive if bought and less in individual of course. Here are a few ideas for the homemaker designs that will make nursery quilts things to be remembered in after years, besides being present joys.

The flower quilt always holds great attraction for youngsters. If the nursery be papered in daisy paper the carrying out of this idea is one of the easiest things imaginable. On a foundation of silk poplin, or, best of all, unbleached muslin, arrange the daisies in a straight border, the stems growing from a plain band on the edge of the quilt, continuing around the four sides.

To make the daisies, cut an oval four inches long and one inch at its greatest width. Make a pattern of a petal three inches by about three-quarters of an inch. Cut out sixteen of these from white muslin if your background is a color. Make the center yellow in this case. If you are going to have yellow petals the center should be a golden brown.

Stems in this quilt should be straight, with here and there a leaf.

Arrange the petals around the center—under it—and place the stem under one edge. Sew around the edges without turning in, using the sewing machine or quick running stitches by hand.

This is a very attractive design, the idea being capable of many different treatments in the field of flowers. Poppies, tulips, roses, daffodils, clematis may be used and one flower quilt has a huge basket, upset, from which are tumbling in confusion dear to the child's heart all kinds of blossoms that spread out to the corners of the quilt. In this pattern all colors of materials are used. The variegated effect is of continuous interest to the little owner.

Woman's World

Wonderful Likeness Found in the Czar's Daughters.

Glance at this picture of the czar of Russia's two daughters, Grand Duchess Olga and Grand Duchess Tatiana, and you will at once observe the wonderful likeness that exists between the two sisters. Grand Duchess Olga, the older of the two girls, is said to be engaged to Prince Charles of Romania, although the lady herself exclaimed, when recently shown a portrait of her suitor: "His face is enough for me. I don't want to hear anything more about him."

The czar is not anxious for the Romanovian alliance, but force of circumstances favors it. The personality of the prince is not attractive, and his education leaves much to be desired. The preference of the Duchess Olga is for her cousin, Grand Duke Dimitri Pavlovitch, whom she vows to marry at all costs.

The Grand Duchess Olga, although not quite eighteen, is developing into a very handsome woman. She cuts a particularly dashing figure in the uniform of her father's hussars, of which she is colonel. The Grand Duchess Tatiana is colonel of the Uhlans.

LEAGUE ENDORSES OSCAR MITCHELL

Anti-Saloon People Will Support His Candidacy

MRS. ARMOR'S ABLE TALK

Georgia Woman Enthusias the Crowd and Tells the Workers How to Win Against the Liquor Interests—Frank Waring Sings in a Delightful Manner—$110 for the League.

The session of the Clearfield County Anti-Saloon League Tuesday, held in the Trinity M. E. church, was full of interest. Dr. Patch, of Altoona district president, presided at the meeting.

The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows: President—Rev. B. A. Salter; Secretary—Rev. E. L. Kennedy; Treasurer—S. C. Watts, Clearfield.

Indorsed Oscar Mitchell.

The discussion as to whom the league should support for judge at the approaching election in Clearfield county lasted almost all day. A vote being taken it was found that 13 delegates were in favor of Oscar Mitchell and 3 against indorsing him. The league will take an active part in the campaign, working in behalf of his election.

It is proposed by the league to bring to the county some of the most prominent men in the temperance cause in the U. S. to speak and work for Mr. Mitchell. Dr. Patch stated that Oscar Mitchell is entirely acceptable to the temperance people.

Mrs. Armor's Address.

The address of Mrs. Mary Harris Armor, of Georgia, in Trinity church last evening was listened attentively to by a large audience. Mrs. Armor is a good talker and her command of the English language is remarkable. Mrs. Armor told her auditors that it was deeds and not words that counted in a campaign against liquor traffic. She paid her respects to those men who, believing in the cause of temperance, were too cowardly to help fight on the side of the right.

Mrs. Armor held the crowd spell-bound with her eloquence for an hour and a half. One man, a physician, declared he would go home and get 50 votes for Mitchell on the strength of that address.

The meeting was opened by scriptural reading by Dr. E. C. Rees, and Dr. Bender made the opening prayer.

The offering for the Anti-Saloon League cause amounted to $110.

Frank Waring, of the First Methodist church at Tyrone, has a great voice and elicited great applause when he sang temperance songs.

Expected First Meeting Will be Held On Friday.

The tabernacle at Glen Richey is almost completed and the first meeting will be held in the building on Friday. The tabernacle can be seen standing out prominently on the main road near Glen Richey. Friday, October 3, was observed as building day, at which time teams were hauling the rest of the lumber. With the exception of some roofing, tar paper and the seats, the building is finished.

The last of the union prayer meetings will be held this evening. These meetings can have resulted in two conversions, and if nothing else had been accomplished these meetings would be considered amply worth while. Evangelists Hamilton and Leonard are expected on Friday of this week. It is hoped they will arrive on time to hold the first tabernacle meeting on that evening. If they should not a union prayer meeting will be held instead. There is every prospect of a good revival.

Cake and Food Sale.

The Ladies Aid society of the First Presbyterian church will hold a cake and food sale in the rooms of the Penn Public Service company on Saturday, October 11. Everybody welcome.

The Ladies Aid society of the West Side M. E. church will hold an Oyster supper on Thursday, October 9, in the basement of the church. Everybody Welcome. Oct. 3-11.

J. T. Stephens, of Carrolltown, will cut 16,000,000 feet of timber on the Wrigley-Dimeling tract in Blair county. A big mill is being built on the tract.

Threatened Closing of the Mines May be Averted

At a meeting of the union miners employed by the Pennsylvania Coal & Coke Company, held at Patton Monday evening, 168 employees of the company, who had not hitherto been identified with the United Mine Workers of America were admitted into membership in the organization. About 30 men will remain outside of the fold and they were given until next Thursday evening to get under cover.

The Pennsylvania Coal and Coke company employs about 800 miners in the Patton field, about 770 of whom are now in good standing in the union. The organized mines are determined that all the employees of this company shall join the organization. If the delinquents do not respond by next Thursday evening it is the intention of the organized men to ask the company to discharge them and if this is not done steps of a more serious nature may be taken, which may develop into a good sized strike.

"If 25 or 30 men can run the company's mines here," said one official of the local union "we may as well give them a chance to see how it works."

It is believed that the remainder of the men not members of the union will join before Thursday evening. In the event of a strike it is probable it will extend to all other fields of the Pennsylvania Coal and Coke corporation in this county.

The side of the 1,200,000 gallon crude oil tank blew out, and a wave of flame rolled the length of a block. At the same time a burning gasoline tank exploded, sending blazing gasoline into the bay. The Standard company's large warehouse was consumed. All possible effort was directed to saving the 180,000 gallon kerosene tank, but it was destroyed also. In all eleven tanks have been burned out or still are burning, five of them being huge affairs.

FIRE FOLLOWS STORM IN ALASKAN CITY

Fire Fighting Apparatus Destroyed by Gale.

Nome, Alaska, Oct. 8.—Fire broke out in the storm stricken city of Nome, and the flames attacked the Pacific cold storage plant, where is stored the chief supply of meat for the winter. The fire apparatus was destroyed in the gale.

Front street during the storm became a mass of wreckage into which seas broke, while hundreds of homeless persons struggled to save necessities of life. Reeling seas carried away the contents of wrecked houses and stores, as well as parts of wrecked structures.

None of the buildings on the sand-spit remained standing, and the leveled structures there were in flames. This part of the community was cut off by the turbulent waters.

The storm that on Sunday night began beating in from Bering sea was the worst ever known here. Men and women worked all night in the icy water to save their household effects. The electric light plant was wrecked and telephone service cut off. The loss before the outbreak of fire was estimated at $1,500,000.

There will be much suffering, and outside help will be required. Winter is at hand and it will be impossible to get in needed supplies.

OSCAR MITCHELL'S STRENGTH

Oscar Mitchell's sources of strength
in this judicial campaign are many.
In the first place, Mr. Mitchell has
always led a blameless life. His public and private acts have been clean.
He has never allied himself with the
forces that work to the detriment of
the public welfare, moral or materi-
al. He can face any man in the county with the knowledge that he never
harmed any one in thought or deed.
The people who wish to see on the
bench of Clearfield county a judge
who is conscientious and believes
that the will of the majority of the
people should rule the administration
of the office of judge can support Mr.
Mitchell with enthusiasm and with vi-
or Voters of all parties who know
that Mr. Mitchell is fair-minded, free
from the charge of being unkind, free
to all men, imbued with a desire to
see the evils which exist eradicated
from the county, can vote for Mr.
Mitchell, without feeling that they
are doing injustice to the principles
of good government.

No man has been able to find a single weak spot in Mr. Mitchell's escutcheon. He stands today as the embodiment of truth and honesty
the personification of sincerity and
earnestness, the exponent of all that
is worth while in the progress of the world. A man whose character is with

out bluish, whose word is as good
as his bond, a man who is bound to
no clique or cabal, a man who has
earned the esteem of fellowmen—such a man would bring to the bench an
this county ability to administer the
laws impartially and satisfactorily.

Oscar Mitchell is strong with the people who favor all that is best in
county government. He has the cour-
age of his convictions, and his utter-
ance upon the vital issue in the ju-
left nothing for his opponents to
quibble over. He has taken his stand
for temperance and against the abuse
of the liquor laws, and if elected he
will faithfully carry into execution
every pledge and every promise he
has made to the people. To take the
judiciary of Clearfield county out
of the rotten whirl of whisky control-
led politics the good people of the county should support Oscar Mitchell for judge.

SMALLPOX EPIDEMIC.

Several towns in Clinton and Center
counties are greatly excited over the
presence therein of smallpox. In
one or two of the towns the disease
has become epidemic and the seriousness of the situation is attracting the attention of people in other
towns. The disease reached these
towns in the usual manner—through
the carelessness of one or two persons who were exposed to the disease.

Mr. Hall appears to be the chief
sufferer from the outbreak of small
pox. In that town those who now
have the disease mingled freely with
their fellow employees in the brick
mills, and the authorities are alarmed lest many others will be infected. The physicians are doing what they can to prevent the spread
of the disease, but under the circumstances this is regarded as an impossible task.

It is said that the epidemic of small
pox in Clinton county had its origin
in the visit of a woman of Wilhelm,
where her father had the disease.
If this be true it emphasizes the fact
that there should be a law severely
punishing persons who thoughtlessly
or carelessly visit other families after being exposed to contagious disease. In the meantime it is hoped that the Clinton and Center county
authorities will be able to check the
disease before it increases the number of its victims.

They're coming in—the reports of
hunters who have been shot in mis-
take for bear, squirrels and wood
chucks. The list of the victims of
the fool behind the gun promises to
be a big one this year.

A man who fourteen years ago
beat a Southern railroad out of a far by stealing a ride on a coal train and has since experienced religion asks the company to pardon him. That man appears to have been as slow getting religion as most Southern railroad trains are in getting from one
station to another.

Philadelphians complain of the pigeries within the city limits. At the price of pork these days pigs should
be kept in palaces thus avoiding complaints of their pens.

The man who wishes to vote right
can use a sticker just as easily as he
can make an X on a ballot. That
bugaboo is quickly banished among
intelligent people.

Gather the fallen leaves and put them on your lot. Next spring you will find that they have been converted into an excellent fertilizer.

After the enthusiastic fans have
returned from witnessing the world's series it might be an excellent idea
to tackle them for subscriptions in
support of a first-class baseball team in Clearfield.

SAFE-GUARDING BIG ROAD LOAN

Not More Than $5,000,000 to
Be Spent in Any One Year.

Pennsylvania Good Roads Association
is Already Preparing to Urge Upon Legislature Enactment of Proper
Enabling Laws For Carrying Out
Proposed Highway Program.

Looking forward to the approval of
the $5,000,000 state road loan at the November elections, the Pennsylvania
Good Roads Association already outlining a campaign for the passage of a
law by the legislature of 1915 limiting
the expenditure from this fund to $5, 000,000 in any one year.

The association realizes that proper
enabling legislation is almost as important as the loan itself, and it is already preparing to make the limiting
of expenditure the big issue of the elections next fall wherever members of
the house and senate or state officers
having to do with the highway department are to be elected. Every candidate for the legislature will be asked
whether or not he favors such a law,
so that the voters will know in advance exactly where he stands.

The association holds that $5,000,000
a year, in addition to such sums as are
set aside from current revenues for
the use of the highway department,
will constitute as much money as will
be necessary to carry out a systematic,
economic and practical campaign for
first class road construction.

The association sets forth its position on the road loan and the proposed legislation in the following address to
the people of the state.

To the People of Pennsylvania—
The Pennsylvania Good Roads Association commends to the favorable consideration of the voters the proposed
amendment to the constitution to permit the state to issue bonds not exceeding $50,000,000 for the construction of highways. This amendment has
been adopted by two legislatures and
now requires only the approval of a majority at the polls in the November
election of 1915.

Issuance of bonds is an approved
method of financing large enterprises,
both public and private. The constitution of Pennsylvania grants to all
municipalities the right to bond themselves for such purposes. Cities and towns generally avail themselves of
this efficient and economic method of providing funds for public works. The
proposed amendment would extend a
like privilege to the state itself in a
pose.

The need is imperative. Enlightened
public sentiment demands good roads.
Pennsylvania is far behind many of
her sister states in meeting this demand. Repeated experience has shown
that legislatures cannot be depended
on to resist the demands for appor-
tations for public and private har-
ties to such an extent as to permit
adequate support for road building out
of the general revenues. A bond issue
offers the only alternative. The state
is out of debt. It can borrow an abundant of money at low interest. Repayment of the loan through the accumulation of a sinking fund and its
interest earnings during a long period
of years will impose no serious burden on the revenues. Farms and other
real estate will not be called upon to pay a dollar of this because there is
and can be no state tax on real estate
in Pennsylvania.

The Pennsylvania Good Roads As-
sociation is in favor not only of the
bond issue, but of a conservative and
well ordered method of issuing these
bonds and expending the proceeds
thereof. Should the bond issue be approved by the voters in November, no
money would be available until the
legislature had passed and the governor approved an enabling act to carry the constitutional amendment into
effect. The legislature and the governor upon whom this duty would de-
volve are to be nominated at the popular primaries next spring and elected
the following November. The people
will be in a position to demand of all
candidates assurance of how they will
deal with the expenditure of the road
funds.

This association will urge upon all
candidates and upon the incoming
state administration and legislature
taking office in January, 1915, the passage of an enabling act that will provide for the issuing of the bonds in amounts not to exceed $5,000,000 a year, so as to produce only so much money as may be necessary in addition to appropriations from the current revenues to carry out a systematic, economical and practical campaign of first class highway construction. The best efforts of an association
of representative citizens of all shades
of political belief and all walks of life
are pledged to this end.

New Ideas For the House.

If simplicity were chosen as the
watchword in furnishing the average
home its occupants would be better
pleased with its aspect than they often
are with many a room known so well
to everybody, overburdened with
"things" and a hodgepodge of colorings. Fancy a lovely pink evening
gown with a background of a red wall
and a floor covering that sends not less than half a dozen color impressions at once to the eye.

Some big American department
stores have suits of rooms set apart
with furnishings, walls, coverings, etc.,
that suggest artistic and practical
ways of remodeling rooms in one's
own home. The cost of such an improvement can be made commensurate
with one's pocketbook, while the idea
is what one is looking for.

Decorators have exploited brown as
a fundamental color note until brown
rooms are very general but nevertheless inviting. A living room in a simple country home carries out a scheme
of decoration in browns well worth
reproducing. The wall paper is a plain one in a warm tan that verges on
a coffee color. The ceiling is not white,
but perceptibly cream in tint, and the
color is brought down eighteen inches
on the side walls, where a small cream
enameled picture molding separates it
from the paper.

Curtains for the windows are made
of wide scrim hemstitched and hanging only three or four inches below
the sills from a small rod over which they are shirred at the top. The floor
is covered with plain brown woolen
"rugs," costing 75 cents per yard.
Rugs having some old blue and dark
red in them give life to the room, as
do the flowered chintz cushions and
pillows. The woodwork of the room is painted light cream color.

Excuse of the Future.

"John, where have you been so long?"

"As I was coming home in my mono-
plane, dear I got caught in an air hole

Attempted In This Way to Stop Impeachment Proceedings.

RYAN'S STORY ON RECORD

At Resumption of Hearing Court Votes to Keep Testimony Before Members. Other Sensational Disclosures Quickly Follow—Attempted to Use Ryan as Means of Reaching Tammany Boss.

Albany, Oct. 8.—That William Sulzer sought the intercession of Charles F. Murphy as well as William Barnes Jr., was the startling testimony at his impeachment trial.

Allan A. Ryan, recalled to the stand testified that Sulzer had asked him to see Delancey Nicol after Ryan had been informed that it was useless to look to Republican senators for any support for Sulzer at the trial. Ryan said that he had advised Sulzer to resign and then the governor asked him to do certain things.

"What did he ask you to do?" asked John J. Stanchfield.
"He asked me to see Delancey Nicol to see if he could not carry out the same idea he had expressed regarding getting Barnes' influence. He said that Mr. Nicol could see certain parties or possibly persuade them to do what he had wished to accomplish by having me see Senator Root or have him see Mr. Barnes."

"Did he name any particular person he wanted Mr. Nicol to see?"
"Yes."

"Who was it?"
"Mr. Murphy (Charles F. Murphy)."

Testimony in the Record.
Replacing in the record of testimony given by Allan A. Ryan, who said Governor Sulzer had asked him to intercede with Senator Root and through him with William Barnes Jr., in his behalf, was the first consideration at the Sulzer trial before the court of impeachment.

When court opened the defense was ready to submit some documentary proof and then call Louis A. Sarecky as its first witness. It was evident, however, that before the proceedings began a movement was on foot to reinsert the Ryan statement in the record and thus keep formally before the court the story that Sulzer tried to have Barnes urge Republican senators to vote in his favor at his trial.

When the court opened Mr. Stanchfield said he understood that there was a desire to call Allan Ryan to the witness stand again and he added that Mr. Ryan was ready.

Counsel for Sulzer were asked by Senator Brown if they desired to call Mr. Ryan for cross examination and Louis Marshall replied that they had no wish to do so at this time.

They had not made up their minds whether they would call him or not.

Executive Session Held.
Then Mr. Brown said: "I move that the court go into secret session to consider the question of the testimony given by the witness Ryan."

The motion was carried and the court then went into secret session. It was said that the Sulzer attorneys had asked the prosecution to have Mr. Ryan here again.

When the court reconvened after the secret session Judge Cullen said:

"Gentlemen, after further discussion the court has decided that the evidence given by the witness Ryan about being asked of the respondent to see Senator Root shall remain in the record."

Ryan is Recalled.

Mr. Ryan was then recalled to the stand.

"Was there anything more in the conversation you had with Governor Sulzer," asked Mr. Stanchfield, "at the time he asked you to see Senator Root than you have already testified to?"

"Yes," said the witness.

The questioning was interrupted while the galleries filled. In the interim it was announced that the vote to put Ryan's testimony back in the record was 40 to 14. The vote Monday to keep it out was 32 to 18.

"What was the other conversation?" asked Mr. Stanchfield.

"I suggested to Mr. Sulzer that now certain charges had been made against him I did not see how he could afford to put himself in the position of not answering the charges."

"He said that the reason he didn't want to was that he did not care to drag his wife into the situation and put her on the stand. I told him I would not go to Washington (to see Senator Root), but that I would try to ascertain the Republican sentiment on the question as to whether or not the courts had a right to try to impeach him."

BARON ENDS LIFE.
Financial Troubles Cause Suicide of Jacob Smisnaert.

Denver Oct. 8.—Baron Jacob Smisnaert, former resident of Amsterdam, Holland, committed suicide in a local hotel. The body was not discovered until later, when the room he occupied was forced open and he was found dead in bed.

It is said financial difficulties were responsible for his act. Baron Smisnaert, in 1883, married Miss Della Daugherty of New York.

The Child Beautiful.

No matter what a fond mother declares she wishes the fairy godmother to bestow on her child at its birth, in her heart of hearts she wishes her child to be beautiful. No amount of wishing seems to have any power in the matter, and what the fates decree has to be submitted to. No matter whether the beauty be much or little, it is impossible to add to it, but with care it can be preserved, for, sad to relate, many people spoil their good looks in early childhood through being allowed to form undesirable habits of those funny little ways which are peculiar to the early stages of life.

Who is there who has not reveled in the delight of the pastime which grownups call "gum-sucking"? It consists in making the face fascinatingly ugly by stretching the mouth to its fullest extent, pushing the nose up and pulling the ears forward. It is disastrous to the very young who by this means obtain very premature wrinkles and find their ears permanently out of standing. It should be severely discouraged in young children and on no account should such antics be rewarded by a smile no matter how comical the child may look.

Similarly the frowns of bad temper should be avoided, and this can only be done by removing the cause. Temper whether of the passionate or the sulky variety, is largely a matter of habit, and a very undesirable one too, but a child must be taken in hand at a very early age if it is to be taught to control its temper. A child's feelings are all on the surface and it is easily possible to divert the mind to some other subject than that which caused the outbreak of temper. Sulkingness generally arises from resentment on the part of an older child. It is extremely infectious and the parent who sulks with a child need not be astonished if the child shows symptoms of the same complaint.

Another trick of childhood which is also associated with bad temper is the dangerous habit of biting the nails. The ill result which is apparent to all is short and ugly finger nails, which can never be made beautiful again even by the most skillful manicurists. The real danger of the habit, however, lies in the sharpness of the small particles swallowed, which are quite capable of giving rise to an attack of appendicitis.

Connected with the fingers also is the habit of thumb sucking which commences when the gums are swollen and painful at the time of cutting the

teeth. At the earliest signs of thumb sucking the thumb should be taken out and a rubber ring given as a substitute, or, better still, the child should be given a little drop of cold water to drink. It seems hard to check a habit which may soothe and comfort a young child but there is the future to be considered, and a continuance of the habit leaves its mark in an ugly pointed thumb and deformed mouth, in which the upper lip and the top teeth are unduly projecting, while the lower parts of the mouth are receding.

The evils arising from sucking a "dummy" resemble those of thumb sucking as far as deformity of the mouth is concerned, and with both there is the evil of overexcited salivary glands through the constant sucking. It would be a good thing if the sale of this injurious article were illegal, as in France.

Nursery Quilts.

Distinctive quilts for the little tot's room are a joy to the children and a delightful task for mothers. They are very expensive if bought and less in dividend of course. Here are a few ideas for the homemaker designs that will make nursery quilts things to be remembered in after years, besides being present joys.

The flower quilt always holds great attraction for youngsters. If the nursery be papered in daisy paper the carrying out of this idea is one of the easiest things imaginable. On a foundation of silk poplin, or, best of all, unbleached muslin, arrange the daisies in a straight border, the stems growing from a plain band on the edge of the quilt, continuing around the four sides.

To make the daisies, cut an oval four inches long and one inch at its greatest width. Make a pattern of a petal three inches by about three-quarters of an inch. Cut out sixteen of these from white muslin if your background is a color. Make the center yellow in this case. If you are going to have yellow petals the center should be a golden brown.

Stems in this quilt should be straight, with here and there a leaf.

Arrange the petals around the center—under it—and place the stem under one edge. Sew around the edges without turning in, using the sewing machine or quick running stitches by hand.

This is a very attractive design, the idea being capable of many different treatments in the field of flowers. Poppies, tulips, roses, daffodils, clematis may be used and one flower quilt has a huge basket, upset, from which are tumbling in confusion dear to the child's heart all kinds of blossoms that spread out to the corners of the quilt. In this pattern all colors of materials are used. The variegated effect is of continuous interest to the little owner.

Woman's World

Wonderful Likeness Found in the Czar's Daughters.

Glance at this picture of the czar of Russia's two daughters, Grand Duchesses Olga and Grand Duchess Tatiana, and you will at once observe the wonderful likeness that exists between the two sisters. Grand Duchess Olga, the older of the two girls, is said to be engaged to Prince Charles of Romania, although the lady herself exclaimed, when recently shown a portrait of her suitor: "His face is enough for me. I don't want to hear anything more about him."

The czar is not anxious for the Romanovian alliance, but force of circumstances favors it. The personality of the prince is not attractive, and his education leaves much to be desired. The preference of the Duchess Olga is for her cousin, Grand Duke Dimitri Pavlovitch, whom she vows to marry at all costs.

The Grand Duchess Olga, although not quite eighteen, is developing into a very handsome woman. She cuts a particularly dashing figure in the uniform of her father's hussars, of which she is colonel. The Grand Duchess Tatiana is colonel of the Uhlans.
